

TWELFTH SUBURBAN.

It Will Live Long as One of the Poorest
Ever Run.

LAZZARONE THE WINNER.

A Scandal Involved in the Result
Which Will Be Officially Investigated—Dan Beard and Company
Win Several Fortunes.

SHEEPHEAD BAY, L. L. June 15.—The Suburban Handicap was won by Lazzerone at Sheephead Bay to-day, in the presence of 15,000 spectators. As a matter of course, the victory was not a popular one. An outsider seldom gets the good-will of the spectators. Domino, the 1-to-2 favorite, failed at the distance, and finished fourth.

Lazzerone's victory was too thrilling a reversal of form to gain popular approval. It was decided in line with his performance in the Brooklyn Handicap. He has started twice at Gravesend since he ran second to Hinsdale in that race. In neither race did he show either speed or staying power. A few suspiciously inclined persons refused to believe that his form was the correct one. His race to-day proved that they were right. Had he done his level best in his two previous races he would have been supported in preference to both Sir Walter and Domino.

The stewards had an informal discussion as to Lazzerone's performance. Nothing was done, but it is more than likely that the matter will be placed in the hands of the Jockey Club for action. A thorough investigation will be made, and the owner, trainer, and jockey will have to explain the horses' writhed rates at Gravesend.

Lazzerone runs in the name of the Erie Stable. Frank Beard is the horse, and would be hard put to transfer him. In his two previous races Isaac Murphy rode him. Hamilton piloted him to-day.

THE RACE.

The field of six were dispatched without unnecessary delay. When he had himself out cutting at the work for the first half mile he then yielded the position of honor to Sir Walter, who took a decisive lead, and piloted the field to within a sixteenth of the finishing line. Lazzerone, who had been running very easily all the way, then challenged the others and closed in.

After a little urging Lazzerone came away from Sir Walter, and won well within himself by a length and a half.

Sir Walter was third, but was unable to give eleven bounds to Lazzerone. He had to be content with place honors. Song and Dance came strong at the finish, and wrested third money from Domino.

He was in hopeless difficulties before they had gone a mile. Faral kept him under a stout pull until the far turn was reached. He then tried to close up to Sir Walter, but Domino was too much for the task. His last effort was almost a repetition of the three-cornered race at the Morris Park fall meeting, when Henry of Navarre and Clothier beat him. It is evident that Domino is a sprinter, pure and simple.

BOOKMAKERS HARD HIT.

The bookmakers were hard hit. The odds against Domino were too short to suit the average bettor. Sir Walter was backed to get the place, and Domino was ignored. A solid few leaders were built up on Lazzerone's commissions. They got from $9 to $10 to 1 for their money. It is estimated that Beard and his conferees won several fortunes.

A plus could have been made if the fall odds had been longer. The post, Rubicon ran strictly in accordance with his late Gravesend form. He was not at his best by any means so far this season.

The twelfth race was won by Dan Beard, though the scandal blows over as one of the poorest ever run. The field was the smallest and the call of the horses engaged was of the lowest possible description. The horses were sluggish, however, and despite Lazzerone's kaleidoscopic change of form, a most enjoyable day of racing was witnessed.

PROMINTON PLANTER MURDERED.

His Slave a Friend and a Neighbor.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 15.—At Nickajack, a station on the Georgia Pacific railroad about ten miles from Atlanta, one of the most prominent planters of that section was murdered to-day by another planter, being found lying on his bed, having been beaten on the head with a shotgun.

The victim was Mrs. Emma Jeannette Bryan, a widow, who was a daughter of the late Dr. James E. Bryan, a prominent physician of Atlanta.

The expression drill by the class, under the direction of Miss Emma Jeannette Bryan, was a delightful feature of the programme.

"Children's Wishes, Songs of Seven," "Jean Ingelow, and the pantomime, "There Are You Going, My Pretty Maiden," were interesting features in the programme.

The pupils of Mrs. Emma E. Taylor's school are to be congratulated on their fine work.

The large rooms were filled with the friends and parents of the pupils, and many spectators, who were varied with musical recitations, essays, pantomime, and expression work, all highly interesting.

The pupils over Miss Mary May, Miss Jessie L. Miller, and Miss Estelle C. Williams, received certificates of improvement.

OTHER SCHOOLS.

The closing exercises of Mrs. E. M. Gandy's French and English school for girls, at 56 East Leigh street, were held Friday evening.

The large rooms were filled with the friends and parents of the pupils, and many spectators, who were varied with musical recitations, essays, pantomime, and expression work, all highly interesting.
